

NOA Board Member

Anshumali Dwivedi

Anshumali is the founder and Managing Director of Sacred River Management, an asset ownership and management firm focussed on transportation infrastructure assets, with presence in Canada and India. He is the former CEO of Port of Algoma. He comes with strong insights and industry linkages. Prior to becoming the CEO of Port of Algoma in 2014, he had been the Head of Business Development and Investor Relations for Essar Ports (India), one of the largest Port companies in India then. He holds an Honours degree in Economics from Delhi University and an MBA from Indian Institute of Foreign Trade, New Delhi. He has extensive experience in development / turn-around of infrastructure businesses, terminal modernization programs, shipping and oil & gas drilling.